Immortality. If we wholly perish with the body, what an imposture in this whole system of laws, manners and usages on which human society is founded! If we wholly perish with the body, these maxims of charlty, patience, justice, honor, gratitude and friendship, which sages have taught and good men have practised, what are they but empty words, possessing no real, binding efficacy? Why should we heed them, if in this life only we have hope? Speak not of duty. What can we owe to the dead, to the living, to ourselves, if all are or will be nothing? Who shall dictate our duty, if not our own pleasures, if not our own passions? Speak not of morality. It is a mere chimera, a bugbear of human invention, if retribu-If we must wholly perish, what to us are the sweet ties of kindred ? what the tender names of parent, child, sister, brother, busband, wife, or friend ! The character of a drama are not more illusive. We have no ancestors, no descendants-since succession cannot be predicted of nothingness. Would we honor the illustrious dead? How absurd to honor that which has no existence? Would we take thought for posterity? How frivolous to concern ourselves for those whose end, like our own, must soon be annihilation? Have we made a promise? How car, it bind nothing to nothing? Perjury is but a jest. The last injunctions of the dying-what sanctity have they, more than the last sound of a chord that is snapped of an instrument that is broken? To sum up all: If we must wholly perish, then is obedience to the laws but an insensate servitude; rulers and magistrates are but the phantoms which popular imbecility has raised up; justice is but an unwarrantable infringement upon the liberty of men—an imposition, a usurpation; the law of marriage is a vain scruple; modesty a prejudice; honor and probity, such stuff as dreams are made of; and incests, murderers, parricides, the most heartless cruelties, and the blackest crimes, are but the legitimate sports of man's irresponsible nature; while the harsh epithets attached to them are merely such as the policy of legislators has invented and imposed on the credulity of the people.

Here is the issue to which the vaunted philosophy of unbelievers must inevitably lead! Here is that social felicity, that sway of reason, that emancipation of error, of which they eternally prate, as the fruit of their doctrine! Accept their maxims, and the whole world falls back into the most frightful chaos; and all the relations of life are confounded; and all ideas of vice and virtue are reversed; and the most inviolable laws of society vanish and all moral principle perishes; and the government of States and nations has no longer any cement to uphold it; and all the harmony of the body politic becomes discord The Indian Tribes of Guiana, by the Rev. W. H. Brett.

PUT THAT IN YOUR PIPE AND SMOKE IT .- The Toronto (Canada West) correspondent of the N. York Tribune, furnishes the readers of that paper with the following account of a horse whipping affair which recently came off in that city:

Gourlay horse-whipped Brougham in the lobby of the House of Lords, and somebody, or rather severgood material as can be had at any shop in the United States.

From his long experience in the business, and his having some of the very best Carvers and Letterers in his employ, he hopes to have a fair share of the patronage of the Old North State sent to him, in place of sending it North; and his pleaders himself that every piece of work shall give hoth in pledges himself that every piece of work shall give, both in workmanship and price, satisfaction. Orders by mail will be man seeking notoriety, but an honest yender of ciman seeking notoriety, but an honest vender of cigars, pigtails, and every other description of Raleigh's favorite weed, seeking payment for his just ordered the vender of cigars, who had the impudence to bother a gentleman with unpaid bills, out of the hall, where he stood waiting. Next day the unpaid and insulted eigar man caught Her Majesty's officer of the 71st Regiment in the street, and cowhided him for about one hundred yards, as he was accompanied by his military companions. The police magistrate was called on to act in the matter, and he fixed the price of a cowhiding—when an officer of the army is the subject—at $10, a luxury within the reach of most men in this country who may be placed in the position of the tobacconist.

In this case the tobacconist, instead of a puffer ecame a blow-er. HEALTH INSURANCE .- A thin, cadaverous looking German, about fifty years of age, entered the office of a Health Insurance Company in Indiana, a few days ago, says the Daily Courier, at d'nquired-· Ish de man in vot insbures de peeples belts ?"
